“My experience as a visual communications student at SUNY Orange has been very rewarding and has given me everything I need to begin a successful and satisfying career.”

Shannon Fitzpatrick

Why Visual Communications?

SUNY Orange prepares its visual communications graduates for entry level positions in a variety of fields or for successful portfolio reviews leading to acceptance into four-year B.A. or B.F.A. programs. Dedicated and experienced professors teach a broad array of studio art and art history courses, and our practicum course offers students valuable internship opportunities. Qualified BOCES candidates can receive credit for some first-year courses. SUNY Orange has a transfer agreement with Cazenovia College, and students have successfully transferred to the Fashion Institute of Technology and SUNY campuses at Albany, New Paltz, Oneonta and Purchase.
