Program Description

The Associate in Applied Science degree program in Criminal Justice–Police provides the student with the necessary credits required to apply for employment in one of the many local, state or federal criminal justice agencies.

The overall program design is to prepare the student for a career path in law enforcement, security, law, probation, parole, juvenile justice and investigation. The coursework provides study and practice in the necessary critical thinking and technological skills the student will need to function effectively in the law enforcement field. The program offers courses on criminal investigations that cover all aspects of an investigation, including interviewing techniques, rights of the accused, search warrant requirements and wiretapping. It also includes a complete course of criminalistics which focuses on fingerprinting and fingerprint classification and identification, blood analysis and crime scene photography. Contemporary law enforcement issues are examined, including searching without a warrant, automobile stops, racial profiling, transnational terrorism and police-community relations are thoroughly discussed and critically evaluated. All classes emphasize interactive critical assessment of contemporary policing issues as well as hands-on practical application of skills. All instructors, in addition to their advanced educational backgrounds, are experienced practitioners in the fields of law enforcement, courts and corrections.

Admission Criteria

Admission to this program requires that students be high school graduates or have high school equivalency diplomas (GEDs). If students are not high school graduates, they may be eligible for admission to the College’s 24 Credit Hour Program. If students are home schooled, they may be eligible for admission. (See pages 7 through 13 for more details on the admission process for all applicants.)

This program can be completed in its entirety at either the Middletown campus or the Newburgh campus.
