Program Description

The purpose of the New Media Program is to prepare SUNY Orange students with the skills needed to pursue a career in the field of video, audio, and/or digital film production. Graduates of this program will be proficient in visual composition using different forms of digital media such as video, photography, web design and art. Graduates will also be proficient in audio production, specifically, digital radio production, sound design, and audio engineering. This course of study is designed for students seeking career opportunities in television production, film production, audio production, screenwriting, news broadcasting, and media development. Students may also transfer to a four-year institution upon graduation.

Admission Criteria

Admission to this program requires that students be high school graduates or have high school equivalency (HSE) diploma. If students are not high school graduates, they may be eligible for admission to the College's 24 Credit Hour Program. If students are home schooled, they may be eligible for admission. (See pages 7 through 13 for more details on the admission process for all applicants.)

Program Learning Outcomes

Students will:

- Demonstrate knowledge of communication theories and history of mass media
- Utilize creative software that is standard in the media industry
- Demonstrate a working knowledge of the audio and video production process from pre-production and production to post-production
- Demonstrate a working knowledge of the individual functions of a production crew and exhibit proficiency in each role.
- Demonstrate the application of video/audio synchronization and composition
- Demonstrate fundamental understanding of media business practices
- Develop a personal writing process that culminates in the creation of a short film, scripted, taped, edited and produced by the student
- Create a portfolio containing work developed throughout the program
