About SUNY Orange

Orange County Community College has touched the lives of countless numbers of the county's 350,000 residents through its credit programs, non-credit programming and cultural events. As the needs of the community grow, the College will continue to play a significant role in the county's endeavor to face the challenges and to profit from the opportunities that await it.

The College has earned its reputation as a pioneer and innovator in meeting the needs of its students and the area it primarily serves. Orange County Community College was the first two-year college in the nation to offer the associate degree nursing program and studies in electron microscopy; and in 1982, the College was the first community college to plan and co-sponsor with local chambers of commerce a business institute.

Accredited by Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, academic credits can be earned through full- or part-time study in the day, evening, or weekend. The College offers three degrees—the Associate in Arts, Associate in Science and Associate in Applied Science. The College also offers extensive technical programs in career fields (with transfer options) and one-year certificates.

Public and private four-year colleges actively seek our graduates for transfer into baccalaureate programs. In cooperation with other educational agencies, the College also presents programs for academically gifted high school seniors, for business and professional people, and by special arrangement with nearby universities for graduate students.

More than 450,000 people have enrolled in a wide range of credit and non-credit classes at the Middletown campus, the Newburgh campus and satellite locations across Orange County.

Consistent with its mission to meet the higher education needs of students, the College is noted for its commitment to ensuring student success. With the support of our caring faculty and staff, each of our students has the ability to achieve his or her academic and career goals. Advising, counseling, and career guidance and exploration are available to all students, as well as co-curricular and leadership opportunities that serve to complement the academic experience.

In addition to offering formal instruction to students in both the day, evening and weekend, the College engages in a variety of other activities. It sponsors a series of cultural events, lectures and artistic performances for students, staff and faculty, and to which the public is invited.

The Middletown Campus

From its original configuration of two buildings—a mansion and carriage house—in 1950, the SUNY Orange Middletown campus has grown to its present size of 37 acres that house 14 buildings. The College's beautiful and picturesque grounds are landscaped with trees and flowers indigenous to the region, while many paths and walks bisect the former estate. The mansion, called Morrison Hall in honor of its donors, now houses administrative and faculty offices. A magnificent example of turn-of-the-century craftsmanship, Morrison Hall contains beautiful wood carving, mosaic work, stenciling, ornate marble fireplaces and a large stained glass window designed by Louis Tiffany. Horton Hall, the former carriage house, now provides instructional space for chemistry and geology.

Expansion over the years has infused the campus with significant additional educational space. Hudson Hall, Harriman Hall and the Bio-Medical Technology buildings contain classrooms, lecture halls, laboratories and faculty offices. The Sarah Wells building houses faculty offices and child care services. Orange Hall features a well-equipped theater as well as rehearsal rooms and performance space. The Library, with its capacity to accommodate 700 patrons, contains over 95,000 print and non-print resources, videotapes, computer software and compact disc collections.

The George F. Shepard Student Center houses a cafeteria and dining room, the College bookstore and nearly every student support function at the College. The Physical Education building contains six handball courts, a swimming pool, the main gymnasium (capacity 3,000), human performance lab, three classrooms and an exercise room. Adjacent to the building are soccer and softball fields and tennis courts.

The College recently opened the Gilman Center for International Education, which features renovated interior space in the Library that is accessible via a new entryway on the Library's north side. The Center contains a lecture room, student study space and an aluminum and glass foyer, along with casework displaying papers and memorabilia from Congressman Ben Gilman's long tenure in Washington, D.C.

The Middletown campus boasts more than 50 general classrooms and lecture halls, along with a wide array of medical, technical and instructional laboratories that utilize the latest in technology. Dedicated laboratory space exists for programs in the health professions, as well as biology, chemistry, physics, telecommunications, architecture, criminal justice and visual communications. In addition, computer and tutorial laboratories are easily accessible throughout campus so students can refine their skills with one-on-one instruction from a professor or tutor, or work on class projects and papers. The Library features a large computer lab as well as the new "Information Commons" where students have ready access to computers replete with internet access and software programs.

Newburgh Campus

Accessibility is a key component of SUNY Orange's mission as a community college, and the College has expanded county residents' access to programs and services through the development of the Newburgh Campus and satellite locations throughout the county.

At the Newburgh campus, SUNY Orange fulfills the many educational needs of the citizens of eastern Orange County. Located at One Washington Center, the campus is equipped with 20 classrooms, as well as four computer labs; two technology training labs; centers for reading and writing assistance; two science labs used for biology, chemistry and physics; a dedicated English as a Second Language (ESL) classroom; a tutorial center; a library; dining services; and a breathtaking view of the Hudson River.

Presently, a wide array of courses and services are available at the Newburgh campus, and that roster continues to expand. Nearly 200 course sections are now offered each semester and "one-stop" registration provides students with the convenience of meeting with an academic advisor and completing the entire registration process on-site. Many of the support services provided on the campus in Middletown are also offered to students on-site in Newburgh, including counseling, advising, financial aid assistance and tutoring. Beginning fall 2009, students in selected degree programs will be able to complete their course requirements at the Newburgh campus. For those students taking courses at both campuses, free daytime shuttle bus service is available between the Middletown and Newburgh campuses during the fall and spring semesters.

In addition to an impressive listing of credit offerings, the Newburgh campus provides a variety of non-credit courses, certificate programs and personal enrichment classes, as well as a number of grant-funded employment and training initiatives and a program in English as a Second Language, all under the direction of the College's Continuing and Professional Education Department.

This campus is also home to the Center for Youth Development funded through the New York State Education Department, offering academic support services, counseling, workforce preparation, mentoring, cultural enrichment and parental involvement activities to junior and high school youths attending the Newburgh Enlarged City School District and Enlarged City School District of Middletown.

Satellite Locations

Credit and non-credit courses are also offered at Monroe-Woodbury, Port Jervis and Warwick Valley high schools, enabling individuals to take courses toward a degree, expand their job skills or access personal enrichment classes closer to home or work. Students may choose from courses in psychology, early childhood education, physical education, business, criminal justice, art, math, and English, to name a few. A selection of non-credit computer, leisure, language, art and photography courses are also offered throughout the semester.

Committed to Student Success

Students enter SUNY Orange with a variety of goals, including: seeking an associate's degree, transferring to a four-year institution, acquiring skills and knowledge for employment opportunities, and personal enrichment.

The College demonstrates its commitment to students' success by providing comprehensive services that include individualized assistance in advising, counseling, tutoring and mentoring. Nearly every College service features some form of component aimed at helping students complete a successful stay at SUNY Orange.

In addition, the College continually evaluates and revises its list of academic offerings in order to provide students with the latest curricula, contemporary new degree programs and relevant certificate programs.

On average, 17 percent of full-time first-time students graduated in three years and 10 percent of the graduates transferred to a four year SUNY institution. Additionally, approximately 10 percent of students transfer to a SUNY institution before receiving a degree from SUNY Orange.

Alumni Association

Not only do SUNY Orange students forge a bond with faculty, staff and fellow students during their time on campus, they develop a special attachment to the College as well. SUNY Orange wants that relationship to continue long after the students have moved on to future endeavors, and the Alumni Association remains the students' connection to the College.

State University of New York

Orange County Community College is a two-year unit of the State University of New York.

SUNY's 64 statewide campuses bring educational opportunity within commuting distance of virtually all New York citizens and comprise the nation's largest, centrally managed system of public higher education.

When founded in 1948, SUNY consolidated 29 state-operated, but unaffiliated, institutions. Since then, SUNY has grown to a point where its impact is felt educationally, culturally and economically throughout the state.

SUNY now offers 3,600 academic programs at its Educational Opportunity Centers, two-year colleges, four-year campuses, and university and medical centers. Degree opportunities range from two-year associate programs to doctoral studies offered at 12 senior campuses.

Two-year colleges are the largest branch of higher education, currently enrolling a majority of all first time college students.

The 30 two-year community colleges operating under the SUNY program play a unique role in the expansion of educational opportunity by:

- providing local industry with trained technicians in a wide variety of occupational curriculums
- providing transfer options for students who wish to go on and earn advanced degrees, and
- providing the community with yet another source for technical and professional upgrading as well as personal enrichment.

SUNY is governed by a board of trustees, appointed by the governor, which directly determines the policies to be followed by the 34 state-supported campuses. Community colleges have their own local boards of trustees whose relationship to the SUNY board is defined by law. The state contributes one-third to 40 percent of their operating costs and one-half of their capital costs.

The State University motto is: "To Learn—To Search—To Serve."

SUNY Orange

Founded in 1950 as the first county-sponsored community college in the SUNY system, Orange County Community College is fully accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. The College offers 38 academic programs that are designed for transfer and career preparation.
